GERMANS IN FULL RETREAT OVER WIDE AREA; YANKEES AND FRENCH IN PURSUIT

British Knocking At The Gates of Cambrai In Victorious Drive

MARKED PROGRESS MADE LAST NIGHT ALONG THE FLANDERS FRONT AND TROOPS ARE NOW OCCUPYING NUMBER OF OLD GERMAN POSITIONS

MORE THAN 16,000 PRISONERS AND 100 GUNS TAKEN IN ADVANCE THROUGH HUN DEFENSES

Advances of Five to Seven Miles Have Been Scored by French Forces Within the Past 48 Hours, While Many Towns, Hills and Important Road Centers Have Been Wrested From the Enemy—German Loss Heavy in Number of Sharp and Decisive Attacks—Enemy Still Clinging to the Messines Ridges, Which It Cannot Hold Long.

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)

The British after their victorious drive through the Hindenburg defenses and knocking at the gates of Cambrai, but apparently are momentarily pausing before attempting to force an entrance.

Prisoners to the number of more than 16,000, and guns exceeding 100 in number, have been taken by them in this advance.

Meanwhile, the center of greatest activity has shifted to the Franco-American front where the Germans are in full retreat on a wide front, north of the Vesle, with the French and Americans in pursuit and reported as having reached the Aisne in their chase.

Between these two sectors another notable German retrograde movement is in progress. The French pressure in the region, north and east of Noyon, has forced a German retreat on a wide front in this sector and advances of five to seven miles have been scored by the French forces within the past 48 hours.

The town of Gulesard has been captured and the French have pressed beyond until they are now but little more than two miles from the important road Ham on both sides of the Somme and center of Ham. They are approaching its steadily full seems probable. The Germans here are apparently heading back for the St. Quentin-La Fere line.

Between the Ailette and the Aisne the French also are gaining ground. They have crossed the Aisne at several points northeast of Soissons and have taken the town of Missy-sur-Aisne on the north bank where they were already in possession of Buzy-Le-Long. Further north on this front they have taken the towns of Braye and Clamecy. The French American operation on the Vesle front has been extended further eastward, toward Rheims, and new crossings have been effected on the 2 1/2 mile front between Venraux and Jochery—seven miles west of Rheims.

The British have regained their April line on the southern part of this front, from Neuve Chapelle to Givency and have even pushed beyond it in spots to the eastward of Givency.

The Germans are still clinging to the Messines ridge—the highest point of this sector—but from the manner in which they are being forced back further south it seems doubtful if they will be able to hold it much longer.

On the Douai-Cambrai front and immediately to the south the enemy signs of stiffening resistance, but nevertheless, the British have moved further ahead at various points. Their most notable gain was southeast of Cambrai, where they took additional ground, east of the Canal du Nord, and captured Neuville-Bourjouvail.

The Germans made an effort to dislodge Field Marshal Haig's forces from their positions along the canal, east of Cambrai. They were repulsed, however, as they also were further south in an attack east of Manancourt.

MAKING SPLENDID PROGRESS

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Sept. 6.—Marked progress was made by the British last night along the Flanders front, according to reports from the front.

From Neuve Chapelle southward to Givency the British have reached the line they held up to the German attack on April 9 last while to the eastward of Givency sections of the old German positions have been taken.

On the Lys front the British hold the general line of Voormezele, Wulverghem, Ploegsteert, Nieppe, Laveille and Givency.

On the battle line in front of Cambrai an improvement in the British position south of Moeuvres is reported. The positions to the east of Hermies, near the Canal du Nord just to the south of the battle line, have been further south the British have captured the village of Neuville-Bourjouvail, east of the Canal du Nord.

More than 16,000 prisoners and more than 100 guns have been taken by the British in the last four days.

The text of the statement follows:

"Sharp fighting took place yesterday north of the river Lys. During the morning our troops attacked and captured sections of the old German positions, taking more than a hundred prisoners. In the afternoon we attacked and captured Ploegsteert village with another hundred prisoners and a number of machine guns. North of Hill 63 our troops were continuously engaged in the sector of Wytschaete where the enemy attacked repeatedly but without success.

"On the Lys front our troops now hold the general line of Voormezele, Wulverghem, Ploegsteert, Nieppe, Laveille and Givency.

"South of Neuve Chapelle as far as Givency we have regained the old line held as prior to April 19 and east of Givency we have occupied portions of the old German positions.

BELIEVE THEY ARE ON RIGHT TRAIL OF PARTIES RESPONSIBLE FOR BOMB OUTRAGE WHICH KILLED FOUR PEOPLE AT CHICAGO

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, Sept. 5.—In the score or more persons rounded up last night in connection with the federal building bomb outrage Philip J. Barry, acting head of the local bureau of the department of justice, believes that he has either the culprit or one who has information which will lead to his arrest. He is said to have very definite suspicions with regard to one of the men and to have obtained important information from him. This led at first to a report that the man was actually under arrest and had confessed.

The streets about the federal building were still patrolled this morning and it was by the presentation of elaborate credentials that anyone could enter the building to transact business. Firms maintaining private boxes had difficulties in getting their messengers into the building. Apparently Mr. Barry had obtained a description of the bomb from some source, as he described it in detail as being eighteen inches long, conical in shape, plugged at both ends; four or six inches in diameter, steel plate from one sixteenth to three eighths of an inch thick and that probably it was charged with dynamite and giant powder.

Fourteen men are held today out of scores seized by federal agents and a night of activity on the part of federal agents and the police heads of the respective department said they had obtained valuable information which encouraged them to believe they would apprehend the bomb throwers.

The Chicago police have not been fully established. Experts believe that to do the damage it did the bomb must have weighed about 25 pounds, probably made of tubing and containing a high explosive. The fact that it was placed near a large radiator and close to the wall of the building at the Adams street entrance is believed to have caused its force to be expended backward and downward, probably saving the lives of many who were in the interior of the postoffice. The four persons killed were near the Adams street entrance, just outside which were found the bodies of three persons—a man entering the building, a Great Lakes jockey also about to enter and a mail carrier on his way to work. The fourth victim, a mail carrier, was leaving the building, having just finished work.

Two thousand five hundred persons scoured the city last night for suspected men and raided places believed or known to be hostile to established government. Every retreat in Chicago was raided during the night.

"Bring them all in, men and women alike," was the order of those conducting the investigation. Secret service officers and the police worked the streets and the police worked the streets and the police worked the streets.

ARMY OFFICER SUICIDES IN A DAYTON HOTEL

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dayton, Sept. 6.—Second Lieutenant H. B. Hollis, Jr., 24, of Pelletstown, N. J., stationed at Wilbur Wright aviation field here, where he was studying with a class in machine gunnery, shot himself to death in a local hotel last night. He was found dead in bed this morning. No cause has been assigned for the act.

Lieutenant Hollis was the son of Mrs. H. F. Hollis of 159 N. 1st St., Princeton. He was commissioned July 1 of this year and has been stationed at the local flying field about two months.

Lieutenant Hollis left a note asking that Mrs. H. F. Hollis of Grace Church choir, No. 68 Fourth Ave., New York City, be notified.

SMALL CROWD PRESENT AT FIRST GAME

(Associated Press Telegram)

Comiskey Park, Chicago, Sept. 5.—Only a corporal's guard of former world series crowds was on hand to see the Chicago Nationals and Boston Americans open the 1918 baseball classic here today.

Half an hour before scheduled time for the start of "play ball," the bleachers held scarcely 75 per cent of their capacity and the left hand pavilion was only half filled. The right field pavilion had attracted less than 200 fans, and the grandstand patrons, always slow to assemble, were in evidence only in scattered sections.

Weather conditions were far from perfect, a chill northeast wind blowing directly into the stands. The clouds, however, had cleared and there was considerable sunshine.

The batteries announced for today are: Ruth and Agnew for Boston, Vaughn and Kilfer for Chicago.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE SLACKER RAID

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Sept. 5.—Investigation by the senate military committee of the draft slacker raids in New York City was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Street of Utah, after several senators had vigorously denounced the raids as illegal and unwarranted. Upon objection by Senator Kirby of Arkansas, consideration of the resolution went over until tomorrow.

FELL 1,000 FEET THROUGH ROOF

(Associated Press Telegram)

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 5.—V. A. Bishop, royal flying corps "ace," home on furlough fell in a hydroplane yesterday on to the roof of a residence. The motor dislodged by the impact crashed through the roof and Bishop followed. He was reported as not seriously injured.

WANT DRY ZONE FOR WAR PLANTS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Sept. 5.—The senate adopted without a roll call today a resolution by Senator Kellogg of Minnesota authorizing the President to establish "dry" zones about mines, ship yards, munition plants and other war plants.

The resolution now goes to the house. The Kellogg resolution is a clause in the pending national prohibition bill before the senate, but its author said that its enactment might be delayed and that the separate resolution was necessary to deal immediately with conditions resulting from liquor sales to war workers.

American Army On Vesle River In Action Against the Boches

AMERICANS CONTINUE TO MAKE SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS WHILE THE HUNS IN THEIR FLIGHT APPEAR TO BE HEADING STRAIGHT FOR THE AISNE

YANKEES FACE MACHINE GUN FIRE, AMERICAN ARTILLERY ASSISTS IN DRIVING OUT GUN NESTS

Intrepid Yanks and French Troops With Them Crossed the Vesle by Felling Trees, Wading and Swimming, Avoiding Ravines and Depressions Which the Fleeing Germans Had Filled With Gas—Enemy Burning Depot Structures and Supplies and It is Believed That the German Staff is Preparing Retrograde Movement.

(Associated Press Telegram)

With the American Forces North of the Vesle River, Sept. 5.—(Noon).—Violent explosions were heard along the line this morning. Observers reported that they believed the Germans were destroying their ammunition dumps.

An aviator reported a terrific explosion at 9 o'clock at Villers-en-Pray on the south bank of the river Aisne, directly north of Fismes. Other explosions took place in the same region during the morning.

Baboeches and Planette were occupied by the Americans during the night. These towns had been evacuated by the Germans only two or three wounded men who had been abandoned being found.

Early in the day the American artillery had begun bombardment that not only reached the hills beyond the river, but also searched closely the positions just in advance of the patrols. It failed, however, to bring such a return as might have been expected if the Germans had been holding their positions. The subsequent developments seemed to prove that the enemy already had moved back all his heavier artillery and perhaps all, or nearly all, his gas.

With the American Forces North of the Vesle, Sept. 5.—(1 p. m.).—The American forces following up the German retreat from the Vesle moved steadily over the plateau between the Vesle and the Aisne today and by noon their advanced elements had filtered into the slopes on the northern side of the plateau.

No opposition was encountered. Aerial and other observers reported that there was every indication that the main body of Germans had retired across the Aisne.

(Associated Press Telegram)

With the American Army on the Vesle, Wednesday, Sept. 4.—Americans with the French moving with them on their left have advanced from the Vesle to the edge of the plateau along the line toward the Vesle, Vauxcelles, Blancy and Baslieux. The Germans nearest this line along which they might make a rear-guard defense of any consequence are opposite the edge of the plateau paralleling the Aisne, over which the Germans have removed their stores and heavy artillery.

The advance of the Americans in force began at 4 o'clock this morning and patrols, one after another, have been going over all day and meeting sharp resistance at several points.

After a month on the Vesle, during which they have been subjected to a gentle pressure, night and day, by the tightly-drawn line from Soissons to Rheims, the Germans appear to be heading straight for the Aisne and possibly for their old positions on the Chemin des Dames. It was not unexpected. The move was, in fact, because it was inevitable. While the pressure from the south was insistent it not vigorous enough to break the line.

Two rivers practically untenable. The extent to which the retreat has gone is not mentioned officially, and it cannot be told, but it is possible to say that substantial progress has been made by the Americans.

Orders reached the American commanders before daylight to send out patrols to investigate and their reports caused the immediate dispatch of supporting patrols. Before nightfall a large part of the army which had been camping along the Vesle was in action on the slopes north of the river, and there was action, notwithstanding that the Germans already had taken the initiative in their withdrawal.

Once more the Germans have employed the tactics of a machine gun defense and the Americans have been facing their fire all day.

In the neighborhood of Bazoches the Americans were advancing along the highway, north of the river, while a little to the east they were south of the river. Bazoches and Fismette have been disputed possessions since the lines closed early in August, and at the beginning of operations today they were held by the Germans. The Americans, however, did not worry about them this time, but advanced along the river to points where crossings had been decided upon.

Smoke arising from behind the German lines has been observed for the past two or three days. In some instances the cause is known to have been from the explosion of ammunition dumps, but in other cases it is not. It is concluded that the German staff again is preparing a retrograde movement. Patrols sent out early in the day reported that the German retreat was under way.

The troops crossed the Vesle in three waves.

ways—on the bridges which held against the German guns and air-bombs; on the trunks of trees felled as substitutes for bridges; and by wading and swimming. Although officially characterized as patrols, the aggregate of troops sent across during the day was quite large enough to hold the advantage gained.

For a few hundred yards north of the Vesle there is a succession of slopes cut by ravines, extending down to the river. It was up these slopes and not by way of the ravines that the Americans worked their way. Every ravine and other depression was avoided, for the Germans had filled these with gas. While the advancing troops were able for the most part to dodge the gas, they were not able to escape altogether the machine-gun fire.

Early in the day the American artillery had begun bombardment that not only reached the hills beyond the river, but also searched closely the positions just in advance of the patrols. It failed, however, to bring such a return as might have been expected if the Germans had been holding their positions. ## GOVERNMENT MAY PURCHASE SPIRITS IN BOND JULY 1ST

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Sept. 5.—Passage of legislation which would make the country dry from July 1 until the American armies are mustered out after the end of the war, still awaited today senate action on a number of amendments to the twelve-million-dollar emergency agricultural appropriation bill to which it is attached. Leaders who had expected adoption of the measure Monday still were hopeful that a final vote would be reached before adjournment today.

Of the many amendments offered to the bill, only one only one affects the prohibition rider. This was by Senator Bankhead of Alabama, and authorized government-purchase of all distilled spirits in bond July 1, the value to be determined and the price fixed by a commission reporting to congress through the secretary of the treasury. The amendment is expected to be voted on today.

JEWISH SOLDIERS AT CAMP SHERMAN TO GET HOLIDAY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Sept. 5.—Jewish soldiers stationed here will be granted furloughs from noon Friday until Monday morning—the Jewish new year—following instructions from the secretary of war. They will also be furloughed for the Day of Atonement from noon of September 14 until the morning of September 15.

If military necessity prevents granting furloughs, provision should be made for the Hebrew soldiers to hold divine services whenever possible, on the days mentioned, the order reads.

The local Jewish welfare board is making preparations for soldiers of that faith to observe the coming holidays. For those who cannot take advantage of the furlough arrangements have been made in Chillicothe for special services.

FATHER AND SON ARE BOTH OFFICERS NAVY AND AVIATION

Here is an extract from a letter written on July 3 by Lieut. George C. Dorsey, aviator, to his father, Lieut. George A. Dorsey of the United States Navy. The young man is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dorsey of Granville. The letter was written at the American Officers' Inn, 5 Cavendish

GEORGE DORSEY.

Squire W. I. England just before Lieut. Dorsey left London where he had been acting as ferry pilot across the English Channel.

Dearest Dad—Dear Mom—Tomorrow early I'm bound for overseas. I'm mighty happy, mighty fit, and feel I can give em hell. I'll do my best and if I go west over there don't feel very badly. Remember that every good American would gladly have taken my place that I'm lucky enough to be a real part of America's defense of her homes and her honor. But I expect to live until I have grey hairs. I feel just that lucky, and have just that much confidence in the little flying bug I drive. I think I'm going to be placed with an old successful R. A. F. squadron—probably take the place of some poor blighter who "got his." At any rate I know I'll be properly fixed and can't wait to get there.

Tonight I'm going to a temperance spread—a last so long to dear old England. (She's worse than when you were here. I mean even one must have come to France.) Lots of love, Dad. Write often and long. Cherie. Your boy, George

No reports have come in of prisoners taken and it is quite possible that the number of captures will be small. The Germans rarely leave a large number of men when they are driven to a determined retreat, depending upon the efficacy of their automatic guns rather than upon important forces of infantry. Neither is it expected that any great amount of booty will be taken since the Germans have had plenty of time in the period from August 1 to remove all they wished to take.

Fires which were seen at various places had given rise to reports that the Germans were burning villages and farmhouses but this has not been generally accepted as a fact, the smoke clouds seen being attributed to the destruction of ammunition by the allied shells in some instances and in more numerous cases to the destruction of supplies that it was impossible to remove, and in the burning of temporary buildings. They have not burned the French towns in this region perhaps because the buildings are of stone construction and a'so because most of them in the zone of the fighting are already nothing more than ruins.

The German attacks contributed materially to the rear guard's defense. Every yard the French and Americans advanced was noted by the enemy aviators who also took an active part in the effort to stop the allied progress, but in the long run their efforts were as ineffectual as those of the line of machine guns nests. The armor repeatedly bombed the Americans and let loose with their machine guns while flying low. The light forces advancing, however, were never more than momentarily checked, as after disposing themselves for defense in a way their mobile formation made possible, their progress would be resumed after a moment or so.

The spirit of the men had been unimpaired by the long hammering they have had on the Vesle line. If anything, the effort had been to stimulate them to a keener desire to get at the enemy. The day closed with men and officers hopeful of finishing their pursuit job on the morrow.

CONSERVING AUTOMOBILES.

The War Industries Board has made a drastic reduction in the number of passenger automobiles that can be manufactured during the rest of the year. It seems quite possible that no new pleasure cars will be made next year. Automobiles have therefore become one of the staples of the nation that must be conserved like any other. Heretofore the majority of automobile owners have thought little about preserving their machines.
When you buy a house it should last your family 100 years. A young horse and a carriage should be good 15 years with good care. A piano ought to last 25 years.
But the average automobile is traded off in three years at least, and a great many of them go in a year. That is not wholly because new and more desirable styles come along. A great many of them under hard wear and rough riding have developed some mechanical defect.
Much of this rapid decay could be saved by more careful handling. The car that is forced at high speeds around corners and over rough roads is subjected to a strain such as no other machinery ever has to meet.
Many people are not satisfied with a week end run unless it has covered 150 to 200 miles. If they would be content to visit places nearer home and run at lower rates of speed, the life of the machine could be greatly prolonged.
The people who are wearing out their cars by fast running and long mileage are likely to find in a year or two that equally good machines will command a very high price. Cars are going to become scarce. Those who want to keep running them and have them in good condition without paying exorbitant prices, should nurse along the old car very carefully.

Among the soldiers recently embarked for France was a Sioux Indian rejoicing in the name, "Horse Thief Wounded With Many Arrows and Taken Alive and Come Home Alive." Have a care, Bill!

The sheep raisers say they can produce all the wool and mutton we need, if only the dog collars are drawn sufficiently tight.

As usual Labor Day was observed by not laboring.

REGISTRATION WEEK.

When the first selective draft act was passed many people looked to the registration day last year with many misgivings. Old people recalled the draft riots in the civil war, and feared that there might be widespread disturbances.
Actually there was about as much likelihood of any disturbance as that the Republicans would carry the state of Mississippi. Registration Day was far more quiet than the average Sunday School. The only trouble occurred when the registrant jostled each other to see which should sign up first and get it over with.
The even greater registration of September 12 will be completed with equally little friction. The absolute fairness of the thing, applying equally to rich and poor, takes the heart out of any elements that would like to oppose it. It all goes to show that democracy does not destroy military power, and that discipline and order are possible under free government.

LENINE.

(Philadelphia Record.)
Whatever there is in the shape of government in Russia continues, as of old, to be "despotism tempered by assassination." There are contradictory reports of the results of the attempt on the life of Lenin, but if the report of his death is true, no Czar of the House of Romanoff better deserved the blow of the assassin.
Lenine was in Austria Poland when the war began, and was treated for a time as an enemy alien, but was released and went to Germany, where the spy bureau recognized possibilities in him and showered favors upon him, and presumably gave him money. He reached Russia just after his country had thrown off Czarism and he sold it to Kaiserism. The Duman was in some sense a representative body. So at a later date was the Constituent Assembly. Lenin and his Bolsheviks destroyed both. Government by the people would not be a Government by Lenin, or a Government by Berlin. Whether Lenin was controlled by ambition, or hatred of the middle class, the bourgeoisie, or by German gold, and probably he was subject to all three of them—he used his eloquence, his cunning, his eminent skill as a conspirator, to reduce Russia to German subjugation.
From the beginning of their pernicious activity Lenin and Trotsky and the rest of their gang repudiated popular law, discarded all the traditional national constraints and interests, disclaimed constitutionalism, and took control of the government. It is not the recovery of St. Sophia, is a matter of incalculable importance to Russia, treated the Allies in general, and especially the United States, as enemies, grossly insulted them, and inflicted injury and insult upon them. The army was disbanded, the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was signed and the German violations of it were submitted to with the unblinking consent of a sort. Of all the figures in the world's gallery of traitors the foremost place in degradation belongs to Nicholas Lenin, alias Ulanoff.

THE HANDWRITING.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Without a roll call the United States senate passes the amendment to the agricultural bill, making the nation hand of July 1, 1916. So clearly demonstrated their voting strength that senators long opposed to prohibition finally accepted defeat without even demanding the usual count of noses.
The incident is significant. It is of particular interest to states like Ohio which are to pass on the wet and dry issue at this fall's election.
For months the drift toward prohibition has been unmistakable. Ratification of the federal amendment is virtually conceded. By one triumph after another the dries have demonstrated the strength of public sentiment that backs their cause. The situation heartens those who are hopeful that the elections in November will herald new dry victories.
The amendment approved by the senate is a compromise in one respect: it is non-prohibitory. It puts the nation on a bone-dry basis upon the first day of next July and keeps it there until after our armies in Europe have been brought home. It authorizes the president to establish dry zones at his discretion about coal mines, munition plants, shipbuilding yards and other industries essential to the war. It also provides that after the first day of next July no grain, cereal, fruit or other food product can be used for the making of "beer, wine or other intoxicating malt or vinous liquors for beverage purposes."
Concurrence by the house is necessary to make this Shepherd amendment operative. The dry sentiment of the house is recognized, and there is small doubt that the bill will be enacted virtually in its present form. It constitutes a bit of mural chirography the effects of which will not be lost either upon the advancing dries or the retreating wets.

CANNING WINDFALLS.

(Ohio State Journal.)
A large part of the apple crop this year will be the windfalls. They are too often repudiated and abandoned as waste. But this year it should not be so. The windfalls should be gathered and all the good of them saved for canning purposes. They will be badly needed next winter, both at home and abroad. We are advised by official authority to can without sugar, in the hopes that the supply next winter will be better than it is now. It is well to run the risk. So people who have orchards should save their windfalls and give them away or sell them at such a low price that the purchaser can afford to can them. These are the days of the windfall, and all the good they can in every way they can.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Letter From Italy.
The following letter has been received by Mrs. A. Sinsabaugh from her son, Sergt. Karl E. Sinsabaugh, who is with the American forces in Europe. We now are in "Sunny Italy." I will give you a brief outline of everything that has happened since last I wrote you. We left C. S. the following Saturday afternoon, and left Camp M— on Thursday and loaded and ready to go but sailed on Saturday.

Large parts built on the solid rock, which I think would be nearly impregnable some years back but which are now not as strong as one would imagine with the modern cannon to destroy them. Donkeys are the usual mode of transport, and the funny looking carts with an occasional dog or oxen team, but the latter are seldom seen in the mountains. We entered a tunnel in France that was six or seven miles direct thru the mountain and then took trucks to the valley in Italy. The dividing line is in the center of the tunnel. Along the R. R. in Italy is very pretty scenery, also about the same in France, only that the houses are more substantial and every house in France and England and Italy has a large wall around it sometimes to the height of 10 and 12 feet.

Orchards miles long of mulberry trees are everywhere. They are used as a sustenance for the silk worm and I think they make wine from the berries. We finally reached our destination, where we slung packs and paroled the town and then took trucks to the various billeting stations in the outlying villages.

This time I got a ground floor proposition in a school house and another platoon is quartered in an old time Austrian church and another platoon has placed his bunk on the framework of an old altar. There is still the windmill staircase which is not utilized yet. The fellows here are fairly good and I am well satisfied with conditions that exist here. Today as we were practicing for the review I met an old gentleman who was a war correspondent for Leslie's Weekly who was here to see the fellows here and to see the ceremonies, I expect. He was quite interesting and I imagine if you get a Leslies in the near future you will see something of the one regiment in the National Army. Many moving pictures and photographs were taken as we came here.

It is pretty nice here. There is an irrigation ditch that we swim in but the water is cold as we are situated in a valley between two ranges of the Alps and the water is fairly freezing, but it is deep and after a hard hot day it feels fine. There are many airplanes about here as we are not far from the front, not more than 35 miles. I saw a plane of the day that you cannot see one or two hovering about. They signal each other with pyrotechnics and it is interesting to watch them.

We have 400 Austrian prisoners in the town and two others. They claim what he is going after. Believe me as for size they do not compare with those few birds in our regiment and thru France we saw the Germans in various prison camps and even saw a single Arabian squatting along the track. Where and how they came in France I don't know, but it is a fact that I saw them and that they were in the town. I might as well say that I saw them and that they were in the town. I might as well say that I saw them and that they were in the town.

ALL MEN BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 45 MUST REGISTER FOR MILITARY SERVICE ON THURSDAY—SEPT. 12—

Having a Good Time.
Editor of the Advocate:—Please accept my thanks for the handsome medals presented to the Licking county boys. We are very comfortable here and are having a good time—Sincerely, Pvt. Ray Farnsworth, 3rd Sec. 5th Co., 2nd Bn., 158th G. E. Camp Taylor, Kentucky.

Appreciates The Medal.
Editor of the Advocate:—I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the medal presented by the people of the county. I was very much pleased with the medal and the way the people think of us. I am wearing the medal every day around my neck. I do not think hardly what to say in appreciation of it. I will have to close as it is nearly time for retreat. Yours respectfully, PVT. ORVILLE HAINES, 5th Co., 2nd Bn., 158th Depot Brig., Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.

Not All Hard Work.
Editor of the Advocate:—I wish to thank you and the people of Newark and Licking county, for the service medal I received sometime ago. I hope you will pardon my negligence in acknowledging receipt of same. The service medal is a most valuable and appreciated by us boys. I hope to prove myself worthy of this kind of remembrance by doing my part in the great conflict we have before us. Have been in the service four months and find army life is not all hardship. We have pleasure along with it. I am enjoying good health and have gained 15 pounds. We have good "eats" and plenty of it. Uncle Sam is a very good provider—I am yours truly, Corporal Leslie Eastburg, 33rd Co. 9th Tr. Bn., 158th Depot Brig., Camp Sherman.

From Floyd Mitchell.
Mrs. T. R. Mitchell, R. D. No. 6, Newark, has received the following letter from Floyd Mitchell, 325 M. G. Bn., Co. B, Camp Mills, N. Y.: "If the rest is as good as the fact it is a privilege to go over there. The Red Cross is simply wonderful and the work they are doing to help the boys reflects the spirit of the American people. Every step we made we were given 'eats' and the other boys and I were treated fine by the women. They were dressed in light blue uniforms and they made a pretty picture in with our brown O. D.'s. New York is beautiful. It has rugged hills and many beautiful little lakes and rivers. We are assured that we will be given passes to New York and I am going to see the town. We are now 25 miles from New York City. The camp contains about 250,000 men. I am sure proud to have it as my home. I have gotten over that and am enjoying myself as I never did before. Now as the rest of the boys have severed home connections somehow it binds us closer together, more so than when we were at Camp Sherman."

Devery Coughlin Breaks Arm.
Editor of the Advocate:—I received my Licking county medal today, and I wish to thank you and the people of Licking county very much for sending it to me. I am sure proud to have it and am wearing it around my neck now. It shows me that the best wishes of the people of Licking county go with me in our fight to make the world safe for democracy, as well as with the other boys and the Licking county. This writing is not very good, but you must not think me a bad writer, because I broke my left arm the 18th of August and as I am left-handed it is a pretty stiff job for me to do much writing with my left hand. Perhaps you know that I am in the Fourth Field Artillery. At about twenty minutes past 9 o'clock on the morning of the 18th of August, two of the boys and myself were putting a 280-pound field gun trail on a mule's back, which was held by another of the boys. Just as we let the trail down upon his back the mule became frightened and broke loose. I grabbed for the halter and was knocked down, the trail falling off his back and across my own. I fell on my left hand and broke my arm between the wrist and elbow. I was taken to the base hospital where my arm was set and now am living in ease until I am able to go back and do my part again. Our mules are pretty good, but sometimes they get scared and as a result, there is generally another patient for the hospital. I guess that is enough said about the mules however. This is a fine country down here and the people surely do treat the soldier boys fine. The Red Cross has a fine library here at the hospital and we have the privilege of getting two books a day if we want to get them. The girls from the military theatre at Houston give an entertainment for our benefit at the hospital Red Cross every Monday afternoon and several prominent persons come out from Houston once a week and bring us magazines, candy and cigars. They surely do think a lot of the soldiers, and especially the young ladies. Well, my arm is hurting me now, so I will have to close. Again thanking you for the medal, I remain, yours truly, Pvt. Dewey Coughlin, Ward M, Base Hospital, Camp Logan, Texas.

NAVAL DISPLAY AND SOUSA BAND COMING SUNDAY

On Sunday afternoon a party of admirals, naval officers, including a band from the Naval Training Station, will visit Newark. The people will be given an opportunity to see an unusual naval display, which is making a tour of the country.

The party will reach Newark about noon Sunday from Columbus over the Ohio Electric railway, and will be met by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce. They will have lunch here and then will be taken to the parade grounds where a parade will be given.

There will be four cars over the Ohio Electric to carry the men and equipment, three of these being flat cars on which have been erected exact replicas, built to scale of a late model American submarine, torpedo boat destroyer and Eagle submarine chasers. Each of these boats, 40 feet in length, is completely equipped and manned. They are camouflaged in the latest designs.

Ensign H. D. Childs will be in command of the party, which includes a select unit of 30 men from Sousa's Great Lakes Band. The visit is not for the purpose of recruiting as all enlistment to both army and navy is closed, but it is to instruct the people in what the navy means, and to arouse patriotism.

Following the parade Sunday afternoon a concert will be given in the court house park, and the cars will be on display.

THE MARKETS

Wall Street.
New York, Sept. 5.—Specialties were the only issues to register more than nominal changes at the irregular opening of today's stock market. Steel reacted a half point with affiliated industrials and equipments, marine preferred eased a small fraction and rails were hesitant, although the transportation group was disposed to strengthen. ## POULTRY EXHIBIT AT COUNTY FAIR BEST IN YEARS

The poultry exhibits at the county fair for the past year have been rather small but this year the indications are that it will be one of the largest and best in many years, owing to the fact that the Newark Poultry Association is taking an interest and is being the movement to make it one of the best in the state.

Officers of the association have tendered the fair officials the use of their fine automatic folding coops, enough to take care of all the birds exhibited, and Superintendent A. W. Mears has gladly accepted the same, which will enable him to take care of all show birds to a much better advantage in his department.

The fair association will have a meeting tonight to make arrangements for the fair, which opens its gates next Tuesday, September 10.

Supply Your Wants Early For Winter

Look over your list of wants at once and plan your fall buying when it means so much to you. Many, many lines we will be unable to get after what we have sold. All sorts of factories are being turned to government work and the fact is that you must expect to be inconvenienced and disappointed many times this winter. It's only a fortune of the war. But on all staple wants for the winter you ought to act quickly and plan ahead and secure early what you will want. Our lines for winter are complete and now on sale, and the prices are very inviting when you think of today's market.

SHORT SESSION CITY COUNCIL LAST EVENING

An adjourned session of the city council was held last evening necessitated from adjournment of the regular meeting scheduled to have been held Monday evening of Labor Day. All members were present and president of the council Dr. C. L. Williams presided.

The recently elected clerk of the council, Geo. H. Hamilton, who succeeded J. S. Woodard who resigned on account of ill health, was in charge of the clerk's desk and did exceptionally well for a novice, giving evidence that he would render a good account of his office.

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved the finance committee reported through Councilman Keyes that there were no funds on hand and no likelihood of any surplus for some time to increase the salaries of members of the fire and police departments, and that it could not be provided for either the first of January or the first of July when the tax levy is agreed upon.

He stated that the committee had met with the budget committee and that the city will only be allowed the same amount of money as agreed upon at the time of the last distribution of funds. That the only way in which salaries could be increased was by cutting down appropriations for other funds.

The report of the street committee on an alley between Fourth and Fifth streets and the Canal and West Main and building of sidewalks in Neil avenue, was received and filed.

The public service committee reported on the garbage matter which is covered later by ordinance.

The public safety committee reported that before entering into a lease for the South Third street school building legal action by ordinance will be necessary and it was deferred until the next meeting of council.

The report of the mayor showed that the sum of $420 had been collected in fines for the month of August.

City Solicitor H. C. Ashcraft was not present to make a report, having left for Washington, D. C. last evening in an endeavor to obtain a priority order for rails for the street railway company, so that the contemplated improvement in Main street could be completed this year. It was stated that such order was granted the Federal Asphalt Co., which has the contract, asked to be released from same.

A petition was presented signed by 35 citizens asking that the members of the police department be given a raise in salary. It was received and filed. In connection with the petition it was stated that the safety director had asked an additional $17,000 from the budget commission for his department in order that increases might be granted but that it was turned down.

George W. Abbott, jailer at the city prison, asked that he be given an increased price for the feeding of prisoners and he filed a list of comparative prices of provisions and food stuffs of two years ago and the present time. The request was referred to the safety committee.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Faust and Knauber, asking for the issuance of $15,000 for the improvement and extension of the city water works, the bonds to draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The rules were suspended and the ordinance placed upon its second and third reading and final passage, carrying unanimously.

DIRE DISTRESS

It Is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Newark Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help. Neglect hurrying to the kidneys' aid means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. Here's Newark testimony. R. E. Powell, prop. of upholstery establishment, 44 Thirteenth St., says: "On three different occasions I have suffered from kidney trouble. Rheumatic pains caused me a lot of misery. At one time I was unable to feed myself, not being able to raise my hands to my mouth. My kidneys at times didn't act for hours and the secretions burned in passage. At my work I have more or less bending and stooping to do and it was hard for me to keep going sometimes, owing to the dull ache across my back. Just as soon as I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I got relief and of late I have felt fine."

Much surer than fire is decay. It destroys steadily the unpainted surface. It works constantly to wipe out property values.

Good paint is insurance against decay. It is fire insurance. It is protection against fire loss. Fire insurance reimburses the loss. Paint prevents it.

ARE YOU READY FOR SCHOOL?

We Are!

We have lots and lots of good sturdy shoes for boys and girls—dainty, stylish patterns; healthy, comfortable lasts.

And most of our shoes wear well, too. We do not say that they won't wear out. But we do say they will last as long as any shoes you can get for a healthy boy or girl, and a great deal longer than most.

The reason for this is that the makers from whom we buy are specialists in children's shoes. They know where the wear comes and they fortify these points as far as it's possible to do so.

And while there has been a great advance in cost of shoes, we keep the prices down to the lowest possible point.

Test us on our School Shoes, for we assure you there's perfect satisfaction in the families, where we attend to the shoeing of the children.

A Suit of Clothes For $700.

A recent report from a representative of an American firm in Petrograd, dated the latter part of June, tells of the cost of essential products. Among other prices mentioned is that an ordinary suit of clothes, cost $700.

It might look from these figures that it would pay a man to come all the way from Russia to the Great Western Clothing Store for his new clothes and still save money. And when you stop to consider that the Great Western is selling clothing under the present wholesale prices the difference becomes more apparent. When it comes to a question of our line of goods, a saving in price simply emphasizes the reason for patronizing us. We can suit you in quality as well as in fit and price. A call and examination of our stock assures this.
